

National Poetry Month | April 2019

And then our singing
Brought on a different manner of weather

We took new stock of one another
We wept to be reminded of such color

Artwork by Julia Wang. Lines excerpted from the poem "An Old Story" by Tracy K. Smith, from Wade in the Water (Graywolf Press, 2018). For more free poetry resources, visit Poets.org/national-poetry-month.
